A to Zoo and Best Books for Children

You will locate both of these resources in Research West in the Main Library. Go to the section of the library called Research West (Enter the Main library and turn to the right. If you can’t locate it, just ask at the Information Desk). Research West is the Library’s major reference collection. It contains books and other materials that you can consult but can’t check out.

A to Zoo

Locate the book: A to Zoo: Subject Access to Children’s Picture Books Call number: Main Library Reference Z 1037 L715 2010

Browse the Subject Headings section at the front of the book and pick three subject headings that relate to your text set. Write them in boxes 1-3 below.

Now go to the corresponding section to look for lists of books. Write down a title that interests you. Do the same thing for the other two subjects.

NOTE: some subject headings are located under a bigger ‘umbrella’ word. Example: under Behavior you will find subheadings bad day, bullying, fighting, greed, misunderstanding…

</tbody>
</table>

Example: (subject headings) Character Traits - Bravery: (title) The Boy Who Painted Dragons
Best Books for Children

Locate the book: Best Books for Children. Call number: Main Library Reference Z 1037 G48 2010

Look for the Contents section called Major Subjects Arranged Alphabetically. Browse the list and find a subject or keyword that could relate to your text set and write it and the page number where it appears in the box below.

Go to that section in the book and find 2 titles - write down the author and titles for each one:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject &amp; Page #</th>
<th>Author / Illustrator</th>
<th>Title</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Example: (subject & page # communication, p 877), Author: Janet Wong Title: You have to write

Continue to browse these resources to locate books for your text set.

Locate Books using UA Library Search

Go to the UA Libraries home page http://new.library.arizona.edu/

Use the dropdown arrow next to the search box to select Title

Type the book titles from activities 1 and 2 into the search box.

Write down the call #s of the books that are available in the Main library OR the Education building collection.

Go to the shelves and take a look at the books to see if they are helpful for your text set. If so, bring the books to class to share with your group.
