Introduction of a Research Study

The introduction of a research study should:

- Introduce the research topic to the reader
- Review the current literature on the topic
- State the purpose of the study and list the research questions

Activity:

Read page 67 and review Table 4.2 Various Models for Writing the Introduction to a Research Proposal in Chapter 4 of Single Case Research Methodology: Applications in Special Education and Behavioral Sciences.

Use Table 4.2 to identify which type of model each author chose.
